Join us to discover Working Artists of Ventura, The WĀV, a new model for urban neighborhoods that demonstrates the best practices in community development. The WĀV is a neighborhood that represents the vanguard of innovative, sustainable cultural facilities. It is a blending of the arts, environmentalism, community-driven development, live/work spaces, smart growth, small business development and affordable housing all together in one inspiring place.

Come walk the site, meet the team and learn firsthand how different organizations can work together to create a unique development that supports the environment, is architecturally unique and provides solutions for the community that maintain its social, green and economic needs.
